

I choose to pay subscription fees to XM Radio...I do not wish to have interests representing huge corporations telling me what I can and cannot hear on my service. Many NAB members broadcast syndicated national programming with minimal inserted local content. Their argument that they provide the best local content is mere semantics...their programming that originates in a local area for a local area often consists of 2 or 3 minutes an hour of traffic and weather provided by another third party. If the NAB wishes me to listen to their member stations, provide better product. Let the marketplace decide what service is superior. In the meantime, please allow XM to provide me with the level of service I have come to expect from them.
